> NEAR CLARKSVILLE, TENN., Sept. 5, 1865. NEAR CLARKSVILLE, TENN., Sept. 5, 1865.
> Geo. D. PRENTICE, Esq.—lear Sir. I take the liberty of addressling you personally, in order, if poesible, to enlist your co-operation and support in building up a labor system which will be mutually beneficial to the white man and the black. With your support and influence we know that we caunot lail, and nuless some system is adopted, and that speedily, the whole of this State, and perhaps all the Southern States, will become a barren waste. We have no desire, if we could, to re-enslave the uegro. He has his freedom, which is his normal condition, and let him continue in the enjoyment of it. All we wish is to make his labor effective and reliable and just to both races.
> If you would write two or three editorials advocating the system we have adopted it would probably be approved by the Administration and become general throughout the Southern States.

The letter explains itself, and reads as follows:

States.
You will perceive from the accompanying rules that we have not fixed any specified price for laborers, believing that supply and demand will, in the case of labor, as in other things, regulate the price. We are paying, however, from twelve to twenty dollars per mouth and turnishing rations, fuel, and house rent. I have tried these rules during the present year, having adopted something similar, as you will perceive, in Jaquary, and I know they will work well. Up to this time I have had not the alightest variance with any of my employees. They est variance with any of my employee. They are contented and happy. Knowing what is expected of them they do it willingly and cheer

The following is the agreement between this planter and his ex-claves:

As each a thing as thring all the farm hands has heretofore been musual lu this State, it will manifestly be to the interest of both the black man and the white that a system of rules and regulations be adopted in order that each party may know his duty and how to perform it; because, if each one should labor when he or she pleases, without regard to the condition of the crop, it is probable that uothing would be made and both parties would be losers. It is always to the benefit of society and government that all its members act in concert and harmony, and work together for each other's benefit. By so doing the whole community is enriched, the general tone of society is elevated, onnobled, and jurified, and the better principles of our nature govern our actions and direct our conduct. Heretofore, you, the blacks, have been slaves with no responsibilities and but few carca. But now, as far as the whites are conceined, you assume the duties of freemen, and it will become you to begin from this day to study in what manner von may best serve your own interests. To your employer, if he is just and kind to you, be accommodating and obliging, and so endeavor to discharge your part of the contract and to acquit yourself of your duties as to leave no cause for dissuisfaction on his part. By thus doing you will soon win agood name and your wages will be proporticably higher. I will now proceed to lay down some rules for the employer, and first the contract.

VOLUME XXXV. C. P. Barnes's Extra Gold Pene LOUISVILLE JOURNAL JOURNAL OFFICE BUILDING

GE GED. PRENTICE, Public Printer for the Commonwealth, SCHOCKIFTIONS BY MAIL - IN ADVANCE:

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1865. WECKS ON TUCKER & CO., LOUTSVILLE .- The Evansville Journal of 4th inst. save: "Some time during the latter portion of week before last a man named, or calling himself, Wm. C. Bennett came to this city, bringing a letter of introduction from a well-known and highly respensible gentleman of Vincennes to one of our citizens. The letter, without indorsing the bearer, stated that he was about going into business in Vincennes, and that he visited this city to purchase a stock of groceries, and ask-ng that some attention be shown him by our pusiness men. The man was of good address, and readily won the confidence of the gentleman to whom he brought the letter, who sold for which he received a draft on Tucker & Co., of Louisville for $500, giving the change in preenbacks. He next went to a grocery goods to the amount of $600, giving in paynent a draft on Tucker & Co. for $070, bacquently receiving the balance in greenacks or their equivalent. On First street he urchased from one house about $470 worth of code, and paid over a $500 draft, receiving the large; and from another he purchased to the mount of $18, and gave them another $500 raft on Tucker & Co., promising to remit the palance as soon as he reached Vincennes. Durbank at Vincennes for $500 cashed at the Ev-goods on Main street, he had offered one of his Tucker & Co. drafts at the bank, but the Cashier declined buying it except at a discount, to which Bennett seemed unwilling to consent, first showed the draft and asked if they would take it at par, which they agreed to. In the evening, when most of the employes, including the Cashier, were at tea, he called in at the Main street house and desired to pay for the goods, at the same time presenting the draft. would have to wait until the cashier returned o give him his change. Bennett replied that it nade no difference—that they might pass the calance to his credit, as he should want more goods in a few days. This fact, together with the cool, business-like manner in which he earaspicion, had any existed. The cashier, howver, returned and gave him a check on the bank for the balauce, and he departed, with instructions to ship the goods on Monday of last week, which was doue. In the meauwhile the lrafts were put in process of conversion: but east, perhaps three, were returned protested d marked forgeries. Some consternation enued, and the interested parties started to look or the new firm. At Viucennes they found the goods and a clerk in charge, with instruction ot to open the goods until the proprietor, who nad goue to Louisville or Cincinnati, should re urn. The goods were attached by the parties whose drafts had been returned unhonored One of the drafts has not yet been heard from and it is possible that it may be paid. If so, the parties holding the bogus drafts will be safe." CLOSE OF THE TERMER FESTIVAL -The exer-

Cincinnati, convened on Tuesday from variou sies and towns in the West, were as spirited as on the previous day, notwithstanding the rain. The showers were slight, and did not in terfere much, if any, with the performances festivities. The fact is, it takes a good deal of adverse pressure to disconcert the German, in elther his business or enjoyments. The day was spent variously; first in regular gymuas feats, such as are seen at circuses and similar lormances at theaters, in which the mor killful members of the different societies took cellaneous games requiring activity, muscular rength, or affording merriment; and lastly, in nch social communion, in which males and nales, children and old folks, took part, as ating, drinking, talking and laughing afforded

The attendance was very large, numbering veral thousands, and netwithstanding six o eight hundred kegs of lager beer were drunk on the ground each day, there was no disorde or disturbance of any reprehensible nature The lestivities closed Tuesday night with dancing in a couple of halls, and the awarding of prize A special dispatch to the Cincinnati Ea row about the St. Louis Post office is still in rogress. There is infinitely more in this contest than appears upon the surface. It is not nesely a struggle between individuals for nerative position. But it is a fight between the preervative and radical factions of Missour for supremacy. McKee is the representative he radicals. The eause of the detertion, as we learn, was as follows Several wild trains were tunning west preceding the passenger train. The one immediately in the front of the latter became detained on the road, owing to some accident. A flagman was ordered to go back and warn the ar proaching rain, but it is alleged, that, instead of performng his duty, he went to sleep. The passenge rain coming up at 5:20 A. M, dashed into the wild train before the engine could be stopped be engine of the passenger train No 63 was ared, and the cars of the wild train considerably bettered. Some half a dozen persons were slightly injured. The wreck was cleared as soon as possible, and, alter a detention of three hours, a new engine having been pro cured, the train started toward Chattanooga. Col. Wilcox was notified, on Saturday ays the Ohio State Journal, by telegraph from the War Department, that a special order had seen issued for the immediate discontinuance of Tod Barracks, at Columbus, Ohio. A portiou of the property is to be turned over to the supply departments; the remainder will be taken selon of by Cot. Wileex for final disposition. There was almost a murder committed:

Trimble county some three weeks since, which have not noticed in the papers. A man callin himself Wells, but with several aliases, called the house of G. D. Dieken and line and the papers are standing in his door, denied having any, at Mrs. Dieken, upon a threat of being shot, sa there was none in the house. Wells then relieved Dieken ef his watch and left. In passift through the country near Port Royal he took horse from a Mr. Colbin. Dieken and Cobbb with three or four others, followed in pursui and, after tracking him to Trimble count housed him in a stable. Whilst debating ho to get him ont. Wells fired three shots, or striking Cobbin liete arm and another passift through the arm and lodging in the body. Cobin is yet in a critical condition. The third shipsesed through Dieken's neek and lodged in basouider. The pursuers then fell back, but I fore reinforcements could arrive the bird before.

the Marshais could clear the streets for the approach of carriages to fail into the line of procession and for the passage of the street cars on Fitch. In fact, there has were, in one or two instances, compelled to stand still or run over the packed masses in the street.

The hail being incapable of containing a tithe of the persons present, the address was delivered in front. On the starlway, leading up from the street, a solid mass of people had collected. Shortly after the speaker commenced, the broad stalrway, in its entire extent, gave way, and came down with a crash, carrying the hive of men and women along with it. Fortunately the structure was but little broken and came down all together. To this circum starce, no doubt, it is owing that no one was seriously hurt, though a large number was greatly slarmed. One lady was so much frightened that she ran away, leaving her babe, which had failen from her arms, to the tender mercies of the crowd. It was picked up by a considerate gentleman and retained for a few minutes, nutil the frightened mother missed her effering, and ran back in alarm, finding her latent, like herself, unburt.

The London Times goes over a Liverpool Judge pretty roughly because he in-listed that a Quaker juror should take off his hat. Says the Times: Quaker juror should take off his hat. Says the Times:

"An unusual episode at the Liverpool Assizes deserves aome passing attention. Upon the inry taking their seats in the box on Monday, a Quaker, who was among their number, kept his hat on. This Irregularity disturbed the equanimity of the Judge, Mr. Baron Bramwell, and he requested the removal of the hat. The Quaker niged that conscience compelled him to keep it on. The Judge replied that 'con seitnee no more compelled him to keep his hat on than it did his shoes, and that he must have respect for others, and threatened to due him $10 it he did not take off the hat. 'It is a reverence for the Almighty,' said the juryman, 'which compels me to keep it on' 'Don't be nousensical,' retorted the Judge; 'your reason is discieditable to common sense' The Quaker persisted, and the Judge at length fine him £10 and ordered him to leave the box. 'Any terson,' he added, 'with such neuscense ha his head is not fit to sit upon a jury. I shall call upon him again to-morrow, and if he still per sists in his neusense, I shall due him again.''

We have no fears for the result. We have confidence in the innate power of reason, justice, and common sense among a people capa-ble of thinking and desirous of coming to right There is something in names and popular catchwords, doubtless, but there is more in inciples, in patriotism, and enlightene

Parties in the country are gradually but sure ranging themselves, we think, under two brosbanners, the one firmly and vigorously supporting the pacific policy and general measure of the Administration, and the other bitterly and truculently assailing it.

The howling dervishes, constituting in about equal numbers the sore-headed reactionist among the Democracy and the radical negropi flists of black and white equality, will oppose the reconciliation of the country, if not with equal ferocity at least with equal unreasonable ness and blindness. They are everywhere giv ing "note of preparation" of what they will do if the President shall not conform to their ideas if he shall dare to pursue the even tenor of hi way as he has begun.

The sore heads, we think it must be admitted are just now more furious in their opposition than their coadjutors, the negrophilists. Noth ing suits them. The only thing that Mr. Johnson could do to please them would be to resign and appoint Jefferson Davis or some other man of like political status and proclivities his success nor. That would be eminently proper, consti sonal, and democratic, and we doubt whether er, in the opinion of the immaculates, auvthing case would be. The President will hardly con sent to this to gratify and obtain fro hem the exclamation of "good fellow." He ron't recognize the antagonism of affin-He won't restore the peculiar institution doesn't believe that the resolutions of '98 mean seconion, the inalienable right of any state to cult the Union at her option without consulting the other parties to the contract. for its own destruction, or that the chief object of its framers was to prepare a way by which the States could get out of the Union instead of into it. On all these and some other points he is politically beterodox, and there en't the ghost of a chance that the illuminate will ever be able to convert him to the sece sion faith. He's too old for that, and, besides, in such matters he is provokingly obstinate and old-fashioned. Hence those tears and screams and tearing of the hair, those objurgaions and that chivalry.

The howling dervishes of the other class, is but just to say, don't utter so many shricks or raise such a dust at the present moment. They rather content themselves with darkly in timating what they design doing if the Presifrace thrust upon the Southern States at the point of the bayonet, and they want them kept n a state of military pupilage or vassalage til that shall be accomplished. They believe in cession, for they declare in so many words that the States lately in revolt are out of the tion, and some of them go so far as to say that there isn't the vestige of anything like States left in the South. Nothing remains but the soil and a few million individuals, the colthe whites disfranchised. These radicals want the whites distranchised. These radicals want military government kept up in the South in definitely. They were opposed to the appointment of civil officers, and wished the President to rule through his military officers until the dusky institution of negro superiority should be established. The two classes of radicals, it will be perceived, agree in certain very important particulars. Both are eccessionists and both opposed the appointment of civil officers in the posed the appointment of civil officers in the Southern States. The dusky radicals say the Frendent is on trial, in a state of probation. They are therefore waiting to see whether he will conform to their programme before making up their minds is reference to the course they that take. He is giving them small comfort, and we are expecting every day to see them of ening their heaviest broadsides upon him. They don't want the representatives from the South admitted at the next session of Congress, and it is theely that the assembling of that body will be the signal for the war we spoke of to begin.

The events of great day only got to praye.

The events of every day only go to prove more clearly that the conservative men of the country, irrespective of the names Democrat and Republican, will rally to the support of the Administration. In yesterday's Journal there appeared side by side an extract from President Johnson's letter to Governor Sharkey of Mi sissippi, and the speech of the President of the New York State Democratic Convention at Albany, both most suggestive as to the truth of our proposition. Mr. Johnson declares that the people of the South "must be trusted with their Government." and that "as soon as practicable, the original design of the Government should be resumed under the principles of the great charter of freedom.' He intends to trust the people, and he believes trusted, while he intends never to be caught napping or unprepared in case there should be any exhibition of disaffection. He will withdraw the military, he will restore the hab as corpus, he will, in a word, restore self-government to the Southern States as soon as it can be done with eafety, as soon as it is "practicable," the temper and conduct of the people of those States being the tests as to time and satety. He thus holds out to them the strongest my tives to thorough loyalty. He appeals to their most generous impulses. He puts them upon the point of honor as well as upon the princ ples of interest. Isn't that sensible, practical,

And what save the President of the New York Democratic Convention? "So far a- the policy of President Johnson toward the people of the South has been developed, it is in accordance with Democratic principles," and he "should be unhesitatingly sustained because he is clearly and unmistakably right." That is as strong a anything the Journal ever said in reference to the same subject. To the same purport are the ntterances of the World, the leading and pow erful organ of the Democracy of the Empire State; so, also, both of the leading Demo cratic organs of New England, the Boston Courier and Boston Post, and with them tally the resolutions of most of the Democratic State Conventions, not to mention the tone of true Democratic journals in various States. They differ, of course, upon many minor points, but they believe Andrew Johnson's policy to be mainly right, and they, therefore, support it.

True Democrate and true Republicana, disregarding the effete antipathies of the past, in the epirit of an enlightened patriotism, will sustain the principles and the policy of restoration and reconciliation that are in operation and that are destined to triumph, as we trust and believe, is the present most momentous period of our

York Times of the 4th says:

It is now settled that the rebel chief will be tried for treason, and as soon as practicable. Ample time has been given for all popular excitement to subside, so that his jury may be as dispassionate as possible; and for the complete preparation of his counsel of every available defence in law and in fact. The delay of the Government in making the arraignment may not have suited come impatient sprint, but has best comported with the sanctity of justice, and with the own dignity.

The Times hopes Mr. Davis will be convicted but it is by no means confident that he will be, as a single juror is sufficient to defeat the ren- linglish and German Academy. dition of a verdict of guilty. The Times evidently, however, has no wish to have Mr. Davis executed, if he should be convicted. It thinks good policy will require his pardon.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S DEMOCRACY.-Prior to

The market is wholly sustained by the cliques of brokers getting up a speculation for a rise. The current fluctuations are chiefly due to the movements of these parties, who are necessitated to keep up appearances of activity in order to save the market from being demoralized by absolute duliness. At present the untside public is too laboriously employed with legitimate business to venture upon stock speculations, and the prospect is that the cliques will have to wait some time before they are able to draw any important outside support for the market; holders may prove able to carry their load as long as they please without any decline in prices. To-day, there was a slight advance in Hudson, Toledo, and Rock Island on the rumors of dividends. There was a general desire to sell the shares of the Cleveland and Pittsburg Road early in the day, owing to rumors of an over-issue.

Government stocks are quite firm, but not active. The chief movement is in 5:20s, for which there is a steady foreign demand. The recent advance in the old issness has helped to draw up the quotations of all other securities, especially of the new 5:20s, which, it is supposed, may so on be wanted for the foreign market. There is hnt little activity in miscellaneous shares.
Gold rimains very firm. The demand for customs is active, and equal to $.00,000 daily. PROCLAMATION BY THE PRESIDENT - BUMOVAL OF ALL RESTRICTIONS ON TRABWITH THE SOUTH. Washington, Ang. 29.

Wastington, Ang. 29.

The following proclamation was issued this afternoon by the President:

Whereas, hy my proclamations of the 18th and 28th of June, 1865, removing restrictions in part upon internal, domestic, and coastwise intercourse, and trade with States recently declared in insurrection, certain articles were exempted from the effect of sail proclamation; and whereas, the necessity for restricting trade in said articles has now in a great measure coasted.

It is bereby ordered, That on and after the lat oil September, 1865, all restrictions aforesaid be removed; so that articles declared by said proclamation to be contraband of war may be imported into said States and sold, subject only to such regulations as the Becretary of the Treasury may preceibe.

In testimony wacreof, I have herennto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Major-General Howard has ordered the agent for Leudon connty, in Virginia, to suspend action win regard to property claimed to be confiscated until the record shall be carefully revised and corrected. It is believed that this will tend to allay the dietress and consternation excited by the publication of the order for the confiscation or appropriation of a large number of the farms in London county for the use of the Bureau of Berigees and Freedmen.

A verbal error which has appeared in some of the papers has been deemed of sufficient importance for cilicial correction. The Secretary of State says the action in which the error occurs is as follows:
